

BERGER PAINTS INDIA
FEATURED IN

FORBES INDIA'S

SUPER
50
COMPANIES

Berger Paints India has been featured in Forbes India's list of Super 50 Companies. Being the second largest player in the decorative paint segment, Berger Paints has consistently grown faster than its peers over the last six years.

Berger Paints is also a market leader in protective, plastic and coil coatings, which account for a third of the paint business in India. With a 3-year average shareholder return of 299%, 3-year compounded annual sales growth rate of 14% and a 24% 3-year return on equity, Berger Paints continues to innovate and grow in the manufacturing sector.

Berger also has prestigious names associated with the brand, like Bollywood star, Katrina Kaif, who continues to be their brand ambassador for Berger's Silk product line.

Forbes India, with knowledge support from PwC India, adopted a robust multiple-stage process to select India's Super 50 Companies. The result is a strong list of companies that comprise Forbes India's first-ever Super 50 listing.

Forbes India is the Indian edition of Forbes, which is a highly celebrated and respected American business magazine.
